WHY PURSUE A GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN MANAGEMENT OF TECHNOLOGY?
Developments in science and technology dramatically change the basis of our society, including its economic systems. A clear appreciation of this process, and the role technology can play in improved management in a rapidly changing global business environment is central to our program. Drawing from NJIT’s long history in technology creation and development, the Management of Technology program emphasizes understanding current and emerging technologies and illustrates how these can complement state-of-the-art management practices and ideas.

WHY STUDY MANAGEMENT OF TECHNOLOGY AT NJIT?
The NJIT School of Management offers an excellent business education and the Princeton Review ranked it among the “Best 282 Business Schools.” The school has been recognized among the select number of business schools accredited by AACSB International, the top national accreditation body for management education. The NJIT School of Management has a dedicated, engaged, multicultural faculty with extensive contacts in the international business community. The program combines the fundamentals of business, such as accounting, finance, marketing, and operations management, with technological know-how in a dynamic learning environment.

CAN THE GRADUATE CERTIFICATE CREDITS BE APPLIED TO AN ADVANCED DEGREE?
The courses in the Graduate Certificate in Management of Technology can be wholly applied to NJIT’s MBA or the MS in Management or MS in Information Systems or MS in Business and Information Systems or MS in Emergency Management and Business Continuity.

WHAT WILL I LEARN?
The Management of Technology Graduate Certificate provides students with the skills and tools needed to manage organizational change, both planned and unplanned, associated with existing and emerging technologies. Two core courses, Management of Technology and Managing Technological and Organizational Change, provide students with the background for integrating fundamental business knowledge with applications of technology. The focus is on the generation, development and implementation of technology as well as the influences of technology on global competitiveness. Students select two electives that are consistent with their learning and career goals.
